

Reel Health International Short Film Festival

The festival

---

- Founded in 2013
- Recognised international film festival

Submissions received from: Afghanistan, Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Egypt, Greece, Isle of Mann, Iran, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Poland, Russia, Scotland, Serbia, Singapore, Spain, Switzerland, Taiwan, Turkey, UK, USA, and Vietnam.

- Independent films of 15 minutes or less
No promotional submissions accepted

- Wide range of health related subjects and film styles
- Has demonstrated significant growth year-on-year
- Large catalogue of quality films available from previous festivals

The outcome

---

- Unique approach to health communication
- Utilises the power of film to engage an audience
- Unites communities
- Promotes conversations
- Shines a spotlight on genuine health issues
- Tells stories not otherwise heard
- Operates as both an artistic and health event
- Positive social event

Audience response and surveys

---

- “Inspiring, evocative, wonderful”
- “Attitude changing”
- “Most creative idea yet to promote a diverse health and wellbeing message”

For more information about the Reel Health International Short Film Festival or supporting the conversation towards better health, please contact Jonathan Green, Reel Health Festival Director on +61 (0)403 068 217.

All submission queries, media or marketing material requests should be emailed directly to: reelhealthfilm@monashhealth.org

www.reelhealthfilm.com